Section III) Important Information

Pre-Retirement: Use this form to designate the beneficiary(ies) of your pension death benefits, if you were to die without a pension partner or if your pension partner dies before you. If you have a pension partner, he or she is automatically the sole beneficiary of your pension death benefits, unless your pension partner signs a pre-retirement death benefit waiver form or ceases to be your pension partner.

Post-Retirement: Use this form to designate your beneficiary(ies) after you have retired and are collecting a monthly pension. Please remember that the naming of your pension partner and your choice of pension option are permanent and not reversible. If you had a pension partner at the time you selected your choice of pension and your pension partner predeceases you, you can only designate a beneficiary if you chose a guaranteed term that has not expired.

Other considerations:

- You may wish to obtain legal and financial advice when estate planning.
- You should periodically review your designation and consider updating your beneficiary(ies) to reflect changes to your family, financial obligations and/or when a life event occurs.
  - You can name one or more people as beneficiaries. If you are naming a dependent minor child, you may want to name a trustee on behalf of the child.
  - If you would like to name your estate, please write the word "estate" instead of a person's name. Note that if you do so, your pension death benefits would ultimately be subject to the claims of creditors.
  - If you would like to name a charitable organization, please write the full name and charitable organization number instead of a person's name.
- Any future designation, including one in a Will, may invalidate this designation of beneficiary. If you choose to designate a beneficiary in your Will instead of this form, please make sure your pension plan is named.

Section IV) Pension Partner Definition

"pension partner" means

- (i) a person who, at the relevant time, was married to a participant or former participant and had not been living separate and apart from him or her for 3 or more consecutive years, or
- (ii) if there is no person to whom subclause (i) applies, a person who, as at and up to the relevant time, had lived with the participant or former participant in a conjugal relationship
  - (A) for a continuous period of at least 3 years, or
  - (B) of some permanence, if there is a child of the relationship by birth or adoption;

Persons are living separate and apart

- (a) if they are living apart and either of them has the intention to live separate and apart from the other, or
- (b) if, before the relevant time,
  - (i) they had been living separate and apart for any period, and
  - (ii) that period was interrupted or terminated by reason only that either of them became incapable of continuing to live separate and apart or of forming or having the intention to continue to live separate and apart of that person's own volition, and the separation would probably have continued if that person had not become so incapable.

If you are not certain how the definition of pension partner applies to you, please contact the Member Services Centre at 1-877-809-7377.
